CHEYENNE, Wyo., May 1, 2013 -- Ten Wyoming teachers were honored today as recipients of the prestigious statewide Arch Coal Teacher Achievement Award at a ceremony at the Capitol.

Arch Coal President and Chief Executive Officer John W. Eaves, accompanied by Gov. Matt Mead, Wyoming First Lady Carol Mead and Wyoming Education Association (WEA) Treasurer Jon VanOverbeke, presented awards to:

Charles Franke	Wheatland Middle School	Wheatland
Christina Gerrits	Sage Valley Junior High School	Gillette
Carla A. Itzen	Kelly Walsh High School	Casper
Pamela Kraft	Encampment K-12 School	Encampment
Liesl I. Peterson	Wheatland High School	Wheatland
Dory Pfister	Lusk Elementary School	Lusk
Michael Riley	Cody High School	Cody
Paul G. Street	Laramie High School	Laramie
Lesley Urasky	Rawlins High School	Rawlins
Jamie Walker	University of Wyoming Lab School	Laramie

Each teacher received a personal cash award of $3,500 from the Arch Coal Foundation, as well as a distinctive trophy and plaque. The Arch Coal Teacher Achievement Awards program, now completing its 13th year in Wyoming, is the state's longest-running privately sponsored teacher recognition program.

"Wyoming's classroom teachers are shaping the next generation of leaders in our communities and beyond," said Eaves. "Arch Coal is proud to have taken a leadership role in Wyoming to ensure that the state's star teachers are recognized for their contributions."

"Teachers do more than instruct -- they inspire," Mead said. "They change lives, influence communities and cultivate a lifelong love for learning. Carol and I thank Arch Coal for honoring excellence in education and for allowing us to join in spotlighting exceptional teachers. We congratulate this year's honorees on their selection and salute them for their contribution to Wyoming's future."

"On behalf of the Wyoming Education Association, we want to congratulate this year's recipients," said VanOverbeke. "Our members respect your dedication to excellence in education and the ingenuity, inspiration and world-class education you provide to your students. The WEA is proud to have been involved with the Arch Coal Teacher Achievement Awards recognition program since its inception 13 years ago."

Nominations for the awards are made by the public, and selection is made by a blue-ribbon panel of the teachers' peers, all past recipients of the Teacher Achievement Award.

The Wyoming Department of Education, the Wyoming Education Association, the Wyoming library community, Taco John's and Loaf 'N Jug stores are longstanding supporters of the program. The Arch Coal Foundation also supports teacher-recognition and grants programs in West Virginia, Utah and Colorado, as well as a number of other education-related causes.
